

Please do not do anything to weaken Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. This Law has brought tremendous relief to our household. The majority of calls we received before the law were solicitations. These would invariably come at inconvenient times. I pay for this phone and I resent having people use it to harrass me with unwanted phone calls. I make a policy NOT to buy any thing from anyone who calls me on the phone. I have cancer and need my rest and peace, which the IN Telephone Privacy Law helps to provide. Now when the phone rings we know it is nearly always someone we want to speak to. I do not even contribute to charities that are run by telemarketers. Please consider who pays for the phone and what we want, our peace. Let the marketing people figure out some less obtrusive way of hocking their wares. Don't let them use my phone and my money to harass me, not even companies I have done business with in the past. I won't buy from them over the phone either. Remember to protect one's privacy and credit card information one should not buy anything from people who initiate a phone call anyway. Thank you for protecting my rights as citizen.
